

Open-Core vs. Closed-Core Business Strategies

Kyle Campbell Founder & CEO, CTO.ai

 @slajax

Kyle founded CTO.ai to address a need for more intuitive and enjoyable DevOps tools that empower developers in growing teams. Before CTO.ai, Kyle built Retsly—a developer platform in the real estate space which was acquired by Zillow. Based in Vancouver, Kyle is a self-taught developer, programming since the age of 8.

Michael Glukhovsky Developer Relations, Stripe

 @mglukhovsky

Michael heads up open source initiatives and builds new developer experiences at Stripe on their Developer Relations team. Prior to Stripe, he was the cofounder of RethinkDB, an open-source database for the real-time web. MG's background is in human-computer interaction, and he lives and works in San Francisco.

Dan Shaw Open Source Leader

 @dshaw

Dan is the former Global Head of Developer Relations of PayPal. Before that Dan created the first consulting company focused on Node.js, The Node Firm, and the first company to productize Node.js, NodeSource. He was instrumental in the formation of the Node.js Foundation. Always bet on Node.js ☐
